THURSDAY EVENING, DECEMBER I. SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING

EDITION (Including Postage),

PER MONTH, 30c. ; PER YEAR, $3.50.

The following comparison is an exact record of the actual, regular, bona-fide editions of THE WORLD printed during the week preceding and

100 C	Charles Comments of the Commen	POST TOTAL CONTRACTOR AND ADDRESS OF THE PARTY OF THE PAR
the week following the las	it election:
Week bef	ore election.	After election.
Bunday	267,360	265,590
Monday	262,510	265,540
Tuesday	257,060	259,560
Wednesday	258.600	317,940
Thursday	253,680	284,250
Friday	260,180	377,850
Saturday	256,050	293,070
Weekly and Semi-
Weekly	107,420	107,060

2.170,860

We, the undersigned, the paper manufacturer. who supply the white paper used by the New York WORLD, hereby certify that we have carefully examined the above statement of circulation, and solemnly swear that it corresponds with the amount of white paper supplied by us, used by THE WORLD and charged up to them (in accordance with our method of charging THE WORLD BACH DAY ONLY THE PAPER ACTUALLY USED $ND PRINTED) during the two weeks specified.

BULBLEY, DUNTON & Co., BULKLEY, DUNTON & CO.,
by DAVID G. GARABRANT, YORK HAVEN PAPER CO.
SUSQUEHANNA WATER-POWER AND PAPER CO.
GLENS FALLS PAPER MILL CO.,
by WM. B. DILLON, Manager of Sales.
W. H. PARSONS & CO.,
by W. H. PARSONS,

Blate of New York, City and County of New York, se. Personally appeared before me DAVID G. GARABRANT, of Bulkley, Dunton & Co.; WM. B. DILLON, manage. of sales for the York Haven Paper Co., the Susquehanna Water-Power and Paper Co. and Glens Palis Paper Mill Co., and W. H. Pansons, of W. H. Parsons & Co., who, being known to me, did append their signatures bereto and swore that the foregoing statement is true and correct. William I. Shiman, ner of Deeds, City and County of New York. New York, Nov. 19, 1887.

ADVERTISING RATES.

7. 25 cents per line. No extra price for acble display. Business or Special Notices, opposite trial page, 50 cents per line. Reading Notices, der marked "Advt.": First page, $1.50 per Fourth page, $1.25 per line; Inside page, $1

ply to the Evening issue. Nor do the rates of that issue apply to the Morning Ecition,

THE SENATE WAITS.

Senator Allison tells THE WORLD representative that he has no doubt some measure will be adopted to reduce taxation. "Some thing must be done," he declares, but adds "We can do nothing until the lower house sends us a bill."

Like all reasonable men. Mr. ALLISON thinks that a successful move for revenue reduction will be a sort of compromise measure -taking off some of the internal taxes and abating needless tariff exactions on the necessaries of the people.

But the Republican Senate can do nothing until the Democratic House shall act. The initiative, and hence the responsibility, is

Let the Senate not wait in vain. Off with the needless war taxes.

THE MAN ON HORSEBACK.

Gen. SHERIDAN expressed freely to a World reporter his views in relation to the army, but when a political subject was broached the hero of a hundred fights said: "I am no politician."

This would not prevent the Republicans from nominating Sheridan for President if they find themselves in a corner next year, as they are very likely to do.

Gen. Grant was not a politician in 1868. His nomination by the Republicans was a p in the dark." And yet they took th chances for the sake of success.

If the Republican party finds itself reduced to a mere "fighting chance" next year it will not improbably turn to " Little PHIL," despite the fact that he is " no poli-

JACOB SHARP FIRST.

Col. Fellows's announcement that Jacob SHARP's retrial shall be first on the docket of boodle prosecutions under his administration, is both interesting and right.

If JACOB SHARP didn't bribe, nobody was bribed. And if he cannot be punished there is no justice in sending any more ex-Aldermen to prison.

By all means let the new trial granted to SHARP be promptly given to him. And may the result justify the confidence of Mr. FELLows that "there is ample testimony still left on which to secure a conviction of SHARP before a jury properly selected."

ON TIME.

Jack Frost shows his respect for the calendar by arriving sharply on time, with his nose-nippers in hand and all his familiar icy Draw it mild, King Jack! The coal barons are few and the people many. The misery of the poor is made more miserable by your touch.

Go North or go West, Old Man. Short visits make long friendships with such as Mou.

A BAIT FOR "TENDERFEET."

The imagination of HAGGARD could hardly conjure up a more tempting allurement for the unwary "tenderfoot" than are the accounts recently published of the wonderful discoveries of gold on the Hassayampa Creek, near Prescott, Ari.

That locality is evidently making a strenuous struggle for a boom. Nothing is so contagious as a gold fever, and a word of warning may save many railroad fares and avert many blighted hopes.

Even if the highly colored reports are true, they indicate nothing more than the finding of a few " pockets " of gold. As every ex-, pert miner knows, this means very little. A pocket " of gold is often like a diamond in a sand dune. You may find one, and then spend ten times its value in time and money searching in vain for another.

We advise the "tenderfeet" to fight shy of the alleged treasures of Hassayamps Creek.

THE REAL DISTURBER.

The Tribune arraigns Congress as " the disturber" of business.

And all because it is proposed to reduce axes in order to stop the collection of a surplus revenue of over $100,000,000 a year!

Could zeal for monopolistic protection and party capital go further than this?

The real disturber of business, so far as it is disturbed-and everything except speculation seems to be doing very well-is the Treasury hoard of money. It is this that threatens one of two things-a financial panic, or an era of extravagance.

The idea that business can be impaired by relieving people of unnecessary taxes is the veritable last ditch of protectionism.

SHARP AT LIBERTY.

Jacon Swanp is free at last His 940,000 bail would not of course stand or one moment in the way of his leaving the country if he thought there was danger of another conviction.

Many are the loopholes of the law for those who have money to employ legal talent to find them!

THE OVERWORKED SALESGIRLS.

The season of holiday to the community at large is a season of hardship to the thousands of salesgirls. Long hours, incessant activity, insufficient and irregular meals and all the attendant fret and worry make the next four weeks the hardest of the year to them.

This extra work at least merits extra pay and the proprietors who are really worthy of a Christmas trade will give it of their own accord. Good warm suppers for the overworked employees might also be appropriately supplied.

An opportunity to sit down during the Inll of trade, a little more consideration on the part of the shoppers, a kind word and a pleasant smile now and then, will all help to relieve the hardships of those who toil to make the holidays of others.

Ex-Secretary CHANDLER talks in absurdly extravagant manner concerning the alleged "blunders in the Navy Department since the Democrats have been in charge."

There was something a good deal worse than blunders in that department while the Republicans were in charge. Blunders alone would not account for the concurrent disappearance of the navy and of $15,000,000 annually for twenty years, spent ostensibly to maintain and improve it.

It was more a crime than a blunder left the nation defenseless upon the seas after twenty-four years of Republican rule and the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars.

AN ALLEGORY IN THE NEWS. There is such a thing as being swamped by

too much prosperity.

A despatch from Erie, Pa., reports that two fishers on the lake found so many fish in their nets that they overloaded their boat. They were obliged as a measure of precaution to throw away a part of the surplus catch. But even this did not save them. The strain loosened the seams of the boat and she foundered, carrying down her crew.

Has not this little news story the features of a warning allegory when applied to the question of the dangerous Treasury surplus?

THE WORLD this morning has four columns of interviews by telegraph with Senators ALLISON, SHERMAN, EDMUNDS and CHAND-LER, Gen. SHERIDAN, Congressman Holman and others in regard to the political and public situation, besides all the news of the day. And yet some people pretend not to understand how THE WORLD has won and why it holds its position at the head of the procespersistent Texan like a prospective fight for day. his pet measure, even at his three score and

The protest of the Grand Jury against the proposed buildings in City Hall Park is very opportune. At a time when an effort is being made to secure more downtown parks, it seems very poor policy to practically close up the few patches of sward that we have,

The petition of the owners of property along Broadway against the elevated railroad scheme in that thoroughfare ought to have some weight at Albany. And the protest of the people who own Broadway itself ought to have still more.

The Nicaragua expedition had a great sendoff for Greytown via Fortune Island and Jamaica. In the old days expeditions in these waters were largely of the throat-cutcutting order. Now it is only canal-cutting.

A Whiskey Trust is the least to be feared of any yet proposed. The higher the price, the less whiskey will be drunk. And the less whiskey consumed, the less sin and misery,

Mr. O'BRIEN, M. P., writing from Tullamore Jail, says he is "unaware of any weakness in the action of his heart." It certainly beats very vigorously for Ireland.

WM. E. CHANDLER Says; "I am not sure that Mr. BLAINE is not the most available man." Well might the Maine statesman say 'Not me no nots, WILLIAM."

Col. NICHOLAS SMITH has proved to be bull in Mr. Ovingron's china shop.

Justice must wonder what she is here for.

IKE LOOKING FOR JAKE.

GIRLS IN CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS DO-

ING SHOP WORK. The Inmates of St. Joseph's Industrie. School, at South Orange, N. J., and of the New York Catholic Protectory, at West Farms, at Work Making Shirts in

DEPRETAL TO THE WORLD, I PATERSON, N. J., Dec. 1 .- In the investigation of shop work done in the country, through the mills of M. Price, of Broadway, Paterson, one of the pioneers in this branch a new phase of the work has been discovered. It is the work performed in St. Joseph' Industrial School (Catholic), at South Orange, N. J., and at the New York Catholic Protectory, near West Farms, in Westchester County, N. Y. When the firm of Levi & Price, which was the very first to engage country help in shop work, separated, Levi retained the original plant in River street, and with it the services of the country girls who were working for the firm. The counties of Bergen and Passaic were pretty thoroughly canvassed by the old firm. This caused Price to seek for other fields. He desired, as his clerk said to a World reporter who called at the Broad-to a World reporter who called at the Broadway mills, to do away with the travelling agents, or middlemen, such as David Allen and John Remsen, now employed by the present firm of Levi & Wechsler.

New fields and other methods were sought and discovered. A factory was built at Granville, Washington County, N. Y., and the help of country girls secured as had been done in and about Paterson, but all to deal directly with the mills. As the clerk put it, Washington had become a "shirt county."

Another factory was opened at Sufferns, Rockland County, N. Y. Thirty sewing-machines were put in and the labor of the stout country girl solicited.

Outside of this a successful attempt was made to get work done in institutions where there are a number of girls, to be taught sew-made to get work done in institutions where there are a number of girls to be taught sew-ing, or to be employed. The first effort was made at St. Joseph's School at South Orange. This was visited yesterday by a Wonza reporter, when the following facts in regard to the work done there were secured.

There are forty girls in the school between fourteen and eighteen years of age engages on shirt work for the Paterson firm. The second floor of one wing of the building has been converted into a shop room. With high ceilings, comfortably heated, and wel-lighted by a large number of windows, it is a very cheerful. pleasant workroom as see yesterday.

Sixteen sewing-machines were before the windows, busily worked by sixteen young girls in running seams on unfinished shirts. Through the centre of the room, before a Through the centre of the room, before a double table, sat the rest of the forty girls, busy doing the hand-work on the shirts.

Innocent of themselves and doing labor, good of itself, these girls were eager to do their allotted tasks, each one of which meant a certain reduction in the starvation wages of those city women toilers, many of whom retrievally set anart each week a barr of their control of the starvation wages of these city women toilers, many of whom re-vesterday.

igiously set apart each week a share of their scanty wages for noble charity, by which the girls of St. Joseph's are supported.

These girls, in their daily routine of book and practical instruction, work in the shop six hours a day. They finish nearly one thousand shirts a week. The packages of thousand shirts a week. The packages of shirts are sent from Paterson to South Orange by express and sometimes by freight, the school having to pay the charge. For the return of the finished work to Paterson the return of the finished work to Paterson the factory pays the freight.

The shirts are received in pieces cut out, and the bosons, wrist-bands, neck-band and two back pieces made. The girls have to sew all together, work the eleven buttonholes and sew on three buttons. For this the school receives pay at the rate of $1.25 per dozen, and for the finest shirts, which require an additional amount of plans, $1.35 per dozen. litional amount of labor, $1.35 per dozen.
This work has been done at the school

This work has been done at the school for about six years. The forewoman of the Paterson mills visits the shop room whenever any change is desired in the work.

A visit to the New York Catholic Protectory, near West Farms, in Westchester County, N. Y., was less fruitful of results as to information, the searcher after wisdom being turned away because he lacked a pass. On application at the New York office, whence all visitors must go, the object of the whence all visitors must go, the object of the reporter had to be made known, when the whence all visitors must go, the object of the reporter had to be made known, when the request was refused.

From one who claimed to know, it was learned, however, that the same work and prices prevail at the Protectory as at the school. The same Paterson firm sends work, the only difference being that about five times more work is done at West Farms than at South Orange.

West Farms institution there are At the West Farms institution there are 2,000 children, which gives a larger number of girls old enough and strong enough to work. But here the forces are divided, the children being employed in making other lines of goods. One of these was learned to be kid gloves.

The shirt work done at South Orange is so.

The shirt work done at South Orange is so uniform and good that Price's agent lately sought to have the Sister in charge of the work there go to West Farms to instruct them in the mysteries of shirt manufacture holds its position at the head of the procession.

If Senator-elect Reagan finds that the Interstate Law needs a further infusion of vigor, he will certainly recover from his present illness. There is no medicine for the persistent Texan like a prospective fight for day.

One of the workers for Levi & Wechsler said that she received the shirts with the side seams and bottom hem done. She then did all the work but make the buttonholes and sew on the buttons. She received from 54 to 60 cents per dozen. With the help of he 60 cents per dozen. With the help of her sister and by the two working hard all day they could make four dozen a day. At ies she was only given bosoms to sew in and for this she received from 10 to 15 cent per dozen, according to the quality of the shirt. These sisters have worked on shirts for three years,

With a knowledge of these mills and with a knowledge of these mills and agents, both being increased in numbers and gradually drawing into the work more and more of the strength of the country girls, one sees the hopelessness of the fight of the poor city shop girl. With mills at Newark, Paterson, Granville and Sufferns, the telling work of the busy travelling agent, who employs those who have no added expense to carry on their work, and the employment of the or-phan girl in the charitable home, the pros-pect of better wages for the shop girl engaged on shirt work seems small, indeed. This fact is realized by the employers, too, for one women engaged in the country, who rebelled at a reduction in her wages, was told that women further off could be found to do the work cheaper still.

The Queen's Stormy Voyage.

The National line steamship, The Queen, which arrived at her dock this morning, had a very empestuous voyage. Strong northerly gales, with tempesitions voyage. Strong northerly gards, with heavy head seas, prevalled during the whole time. On Nov. 21 a neary sea boarded the vessel, carry-ing away the after-house and entirely demonstrate one tog lifeboat. The companionway was start in and a large portion of the bulwarks were rent in

The steerage passengers, 193 in number, were for a time nearly panic stricken, but the officers sured them that the ve-sel was in no immeddanger. The storm su sided the following day.

Fined for Selling Pools.

In the Court of Special Sessions to-day George W. Hughes, James T. Nelson and George Williams were placed on trial for selling pools at 95 Vesey street. George E Oram, of the Society for the suppression of Vice, testified that he bet as on Little Minnie, who was to run at the Sheepshead Bay races. Counse for the accused entered a p'ea of guilty and stated that the arrests had caused the place, which had been running only five days, to be closed. The accused were fined $65 cach. At the Same Time Police Justice Patterse

Was in Search of Mr. Robinson. Ex-Assistant Alderman Isaac Robinson en tered the Fifth Avenue Hotel at 8 o'clock last evening. His even wandered from group to group of Republican statesmen as he elbowed his way to the cigar stand. " Have you seen Police Justice Jacob M. Patterson around?" he asked Dwight Lawrence, who was buying two weeds for a 'I have not," replied Lawrence; "who's in trouble ? "Nobody. I just want to see him," answered Robinson.

During the next half hour the ex-Assistant During the next half hour the ex-Assistant Biderman put the same question to ex-Police Justice Bixby, ex-Police Justice Hogan, ex-Deputy Sheriff Diedrich Gale, Mr. John Pyne, James Prior, the hotel detective, and Pyne, James Prior, the hotel detective, and half a dozen others.

"I wonder where I can find Judge Patterson," he exclaimed, as he went out of the Twenty-fourth street entrance.

He sauntered into the Hoffman House, and approaching Billy Edwards, handed him a large bundle and said; "Billy, keep these documents records and files for me. I may call for them any moment." Then he wended his way towards the Gilsey House in search of the Police Justice. search of the Police Justice.

At 9 o'clock Police-Justice Patterson's large form entered the Fifth Avenue Hotel. He merely nodded to Senator Hiscock, Boss Platt and Senator Vedder as he whisked through the lobby. A District Messenger boy followed him. The boy had several books and two files of newspapers under his left arm.

left arm.
"Have you seen Ike Robinson?" was Judge
"Have you seen Ike Robinson?" was Judge Patterson's inquiry of every local politicia he met.

At 10 o'clock Patterson was scouring the hotels for Robinson on foot, and Robinson had hired a cab to search for Patterson.

It was a inted at the hotels that Patterson, and Robinson had had a dispute the night before regarding the Constitution of the United States, the platforms of the Democratic and Republican parties, and the size of the ring in which Tom Hyer and Yankee Sullivan fought their prize-fight.

RACING ON THE EAST RIVER.

The Ferrybeat Wyoming Has a Lively

The ferryboat Wyoming, which voyage etween East Twenty-third street, New York, and Broadway, Brooklyn, awoke from its lethargic spirit late last night and made a gallant race with the big side-wheel Sound steamer Elm City.

The Wyoming was swarming across the river from the Brooklyn shore at about 11 o'clock, when the high white bow of the Elm City was seen coming out of the darkness on her port quarter. With a wild disregard of the galling possibilities of defeat the Wyoming headed straight up stream, exactly parallel with the swift moving side-wheeler.

wheeler.

Then the ferryboat went at it in dead earnest. Her snubnose pounded into the waver like a canal-boat in a cross sea, and her whirling wheels fairly made holes in the whirling wheels fairly made holes. whirling wheels fairly made holes in the water. The passengers on the ferryboat crowded to the windows to see the race. Bets were offered on the Elm City, but there were no takers.

For a time it seemed that the Wyoming For a time it seemed that the Wyoming held her own with ease, but just then the de-liberate moving walking-beam of the Elm District moving walking-beam of the Elm City began to race up and down, and the big steamer, with roaring wheels and rushing prow, forged on ahead. At the last moment of the race the two vessels came very near together. Passengers held their breath in apprehension. Then the Wyonning stopped her wheels. A moment later her bow almost grazed the Elm City's stern.

SHE WAS A KLEPTOMANIAC.

The Well-Dressed and Mysterious Shoplifter Discharged This Morning.

Sergt.-Detective Lyman arrested a hand omely-dressed woman at Simpson, Crawford & Simpson's, in Sixth avenue, yesterday afternoon on a charge of stealing a pair of socks worth 29 cents. The woman said her name was Marien B. Lord, but refused to give her address. She stoutly insisted that she had bought the socks, but S. C. Perry, the clerk who made the complaint, declared that this was Mrs. Lord's second offense.

Mrs. Lord was taken to Police Headquarters. She presented a wee-begone appearance, and, with streaming eyes and trembling accents, begged to be released. Justice Duffy appeared in Inspector Byrnes's rooms during the evening and admitted Mrs. Lord to bail in $300 to answer a charge of petit larceny.

This morning Mrs. Lord was arraigned at the Jefferson Market Police Court, and was discharged without any proceedings, as no one appeared to make a complaint.

It was learned that she is the wife of a clerk in a wholesale house downtown, and that she is troubled with attacks of kleptoclerk in a wholesale house downtown, and that she is troubled with attacks of klepto-

Caught an Engle in the Street.

Officer J. H. Kelley, of the Nineteenth Precinct, while patrolling along tashlonable Pifth avenue at Forty-first street this morning saw a large bird bird all " humped up," and, upon a close inspecbird all "humped up," and, upon a close inspec-tion, discovered that it was a genuine, live American eagle. It was fully 2 feet wise from wing to wing and stood 1½ feet high. Kelly, tearful that the bor of freedom might spring upon him and gouge his eyes out, diew his club, "sur-rounded it," he says, and then found that it was chilled with the cois and was only too happy to be-come a prisoner to the famous Nineteenth Pre-cinct house. This morning the eagle is locked up in a cell, with a pan of water and some raw meat for its diet.

Taking Care of the Operators. A number of the former employees of the Batti-nore and Ohio Telegraph Company, whose salaries have been paid since the amalgamation by the Western Union, were discharged yesterday. Mr. Humstone, of the Western Union, said to-day that his company had re-employed between 60 and 10 per cent, of the Ballimore and Ohio hands. He did not think that those whose services were dipensed with exceeded 40 per ceat.

Within New York's recincts. Sir Halley Stuart, M. P., of England, is at the George Carr, London's swell tailor, stays at the The Victoria shelters Geo. M. Pullman, of Ex-Congression P. A. Collins, of Boston, is staying at the St. James.

The name of Max O'Rell, the French author, can be read on the Everett's tesok.

Mrs. John Brew, when out of "School," can be ound at the Union Square Hotel.

The Rev. Threstere A. Hopkins, the Vermont uvine, occuries a room at the Grand.

William Harris, inspacer of the Howard Atheneous, is "booked" at the Union Square. Gen. S. C. Armstrong, of Virginia, and George Gordon King, of Newport, register at the Everett. At the Hoffman is Thomas J. Lovett, general manager of the Cyclone Pulverising Company of

United States Senator Henry W. Blair, of New & B. Ledyard, President and General Manager of the Michigae Central Religions of the Michicae Central Railroad, has comfortable purifers at the Windson. Vermont and Connecticut politics are represented at the Park Avenue by J. R. Judson and William H. Buckeley respectively.

Joshua Merrill, one of Boston's best known citizens, and Gen. John G. Meyers, of Albany, are among the arrivals at the Windsor.

Mrs. C. S. Yester and Miss Yester, wife and daughter of Judge Yester, of Saratoga, are stay-ing for a short time at the Brun-wick. Major William Hughes, of Kentucky, and J. S. El on, a well-knowe insurance man of Hartford, make the Murray Hill Hotel their home while in

Hector Mackensie, of Montreal; John C. Page,

HASSAYAMPA BUT A POCKET.

THE ARIZONA GOLD MINING BUBBLE IS VERY EASILY PRICKED.

Mining Experts Say that the Alleged New El Dorado Near Prescott is a Pocket rail. Which Cannot be Worked at a Profit-No Water in the District and Coke $40 a Ton-Prescott's Artful Little Boom.

The sensational yarns about the alleged auriferous riches of the Hassayampa creel mines, near Prescott, Ari., threaten to create a gold fever. Allured by the dazzling ac counts, industriously circulated by those interested, people are flocking to Prescott from all parts of the country. Several parties have already left this city for the alleged El Dorado, and many other enthusiasts are said to be preparing for the trip. In line with its policy of rendering public service, The World feels called upon to prick this glittering bubble, to point out the exact facts in the case and to warn would-be adventurers of the disappointment that doubtless awaits them on Hassavampa creek. The accounts published so extensively have the savor of a manufactured boom and should be received, if at all, with a very large allowance of salt. But even if the statements were reliable, they are likely to grievously deceive those who are ignorant of the peculiarities of gold mining.

The wonderful finds reported are "pock ets." Even if genuine pockets and not ets." Even if genuine pockets and not "doctored" they afford very slight indication of the prospects of the mines. A man might spend a fortune and a lifetime in the barren region about Prescott, Ari., without finding another one.

Briefly, a "pocket," in mining parlance, according to J. H. Banks, assistant to Prof. Ricketts, of the School of Mines of Columbia College, is a rich deposit in a mineral vein, which augurs nothing for the value of the ore Gold in large quantities may be found in pocket, but as a rule, in fact, almost withou exception, the deposit peters out as suddenly as it is found. "I think likely," said Prof. Banks to-day as it is found.

"I think likely," said Prof. Banks to-day,
"that this is a pocket, but," he added, with a significant smile, "although it is possible that $6,000 worth of gold was taken out of that shaft, it is hardly probable. So many stories of a similar nature have been started about other mines, and which on investigation have proven to be without foundation, that it is well to know whereof one speaks before giving an opinion. Indeed, in that district a mine would need to pan out richly to pay the expenses attendant on mining and milling its products. In the matter of fuel, for instance. Coke is used largely, and that costs $40 per ton, and must be transported a long distance to the mines.

"Enormous expense is undergone before the output can be placed in a marketable condition. Then all that region is unfortunately dry. Water-power is one of the privileges that mines there are striving for, tunately dry. Water-power is one of the privileges that mines there are striving for, but so far with little success, and with the lack of water-power and the attendant expenses of fuel and transportation, the result of uncessant toil seems to be unremuner

At the office of Kempton & Thacher on Broadway was found Alfred Aylward, a well-

Broadway was found Affred Aylward, a well-known mining engineer. He said that he thought that he reports of the richness of the "Great Modern Bonanza" were much exaggerated. Most of such reports were. From the alleged richness of this find he thought that it must be a "pocket." If so the yield would end there.

"Arizona is filled with deserted mining camps," said Mr. Aylward. "Papers have printed stories of marvellous finds, and people have rushed in thousands to the place where 'wonderful' nuggets could be picked up. Capitalists have advertised stocks and paid for 'booms.' How did it end? Hundreds of thousands of dollars were sunk. paid for 'booms.' How did it end? Hundreds of thousands of dollars were sunk. Valuable machinery was railroaded and carted to the wonderful El Dorado. The 'bonanzas' did not hold out, and after wasting time and money the places were aban Then again it is very badly fixed in re

Then again it is very once in the gard to water for mining purposes. This, however, may be overcome in time by artificial means. There is a company now at work building a series of dams to save the water which disappears so rapidly at times. The company has expended $1,200,000 already and has dammed $2,000 acres of water. "No, I do not place much faith in the published reports of these great finds. If I were to invest, or wanted to advise a friend to invest, I would first send out a competent, honest man to look over the property, one who knew his business and who was above suspicion. Besides, I would want, at least, results from six months' milling. I have been in the business too many years to be carried A prominent member of the Consolidated 'It reads like a fairy story. Such strikes are rare nowadays. I would want to investigate very closely before would want to investigate very closely before investing."

According to the latest report of James P. Kimball, Director of the Mint, upon the production of the precious metals of the United States, the collector of statistics of bullion in Arizona, where this presumably gold bonanza is located, is surrounded with extreme difficulty.

In 1885 the bullion product of that Territors suffered a serious loss, from the difficulty.

tory suffered a serious loss, from the difficul-ties encountered in draining some of the principal mines in one section. Owing to these difficulties little has been accomplished. save sinking to somewhat greater depths in some mines.

According to the same authority, although a gold mill was built on the old Stevling mine, near Prescott, which is but a short distance from the upper Hassayampa creek, where the Howard claim is located, and while a large hydraulic plant was built on the Hassayampa river, nothing has been ac complished. Old mining experts who are thoroughly Old mining experts who are thoroughly familiar with the Hassayampa district claim that one of the greatest difficulties encountered is the lack of fuel. Again, they claim that the water supply, which is an important factor in a mining country, is limited, and can never be depended upon. With these two obstructions to successful mining, there can be but one consequence—plenty of work and unprofitable results.

In Aid of a Sick Relief Fund.

The third annual concert of United Council, No 1,035, American Legion of Honor, in aid of its stek rehel fund, will be given on Sanday evening next at the Star Theatre. The following artists have volunteered their services: Osmond Tearle, Harry Edwa ds. E. D. Ward, DeWolf Hoper, Dugby Beil, Rubert Wilke. Mark Smith, Har y Fraer, Vincent Hogan, Dave Reed, Charles Wernig and orchestra, Harry Macdonough, Jeff De Anglilo, Watter Hampsnire, Ruby Fraoks, Brandon, the toy tenor; R. se. Cog kin, Mathiode Cottrelly, Mrs. Abbey, Marion Manola, Bertha Ricci, Andie Meyer, Josie Knapp and the chorus of the McCaull Opera Comique Company. at the Star Theatre. The following artists have Comique Company.

Badly Burt by a Bootblack.

William Duff, aftern years old, of 362 Tenth avenue, is lying in a precirious condition to-day at Roosevelt Hospital, suffering from a compound at Roosevelt Hospital, saffering from a compound fracture of the skull, received by being struck on the head with a brick on the night of Nov. 25. His assailant, an Itali n bootblack named Michaelo Gerob, of 547 West Thirty-third street, was arrested resterdy stiernoon. This morning he was straigned before Justice Gorman at the Jefferson Market Court and remanded to await the result of the boy's injuries.

Pretended to Be Deaf and Dumb. big, overgrown boy, with a shaven head, who had been arrested for burglary, refused to give his name or address and pretented to be deaf and dumb when arraigned to-day in the Jefferson Market Police Court. Policeman Patrick Harrington, of the Eights Precinct, aid that the lad could talk and that last night he broke into the beer saloon of Dora Hermann and stole a lot of cigars and 22 cents in money. He was held in $1,000 ball for trial.

" ALL RIGHT " HE SAID TO CABBY.

Coachman Bailey's Complaint of Assault Against "George Wilson" Withdrawn. While Justice Gorman was distributing justice to a procession of sinners this morning at the Jefferson Market Court, a man with the air of a priest entered within the

He was a stout, middle-sized man of sixty. His round shaven face was a healthy red, and what hair he had was white.

His globular bald pate was decorated with a star formed of several bands of white courtplaster which radiated from a big lump right plaster which radiated from a big lump right on the middle of his skull.

This was the cabby, Thomas Bailey, who was whacked with a cane last night on Broadway, near the New York Club.

On the other side was the cane and its owner, the author of Mr. Bailey's enlargement of head. "George Wilson" is his nom de guerre, but he does business under a different one. He is a man of thirty-five, medium height, dark blue eyes, prominent nose, heavy mustache and eyebrows which lose, heavy mustache and eyebrows which Meet.

When Thomas Bailey was asked for some particulars about the encounter which had led up to such a decorative result on his shiny poll, he answered naught, but pensively regarded an inch of perforation in a battered tile which he held solemnly in his fat

What is this case?" asked Justice Gorman, as a group consisting of "George Wilsoh" and his cane, Thomas Bailey and his beplastered lump and Policeman Nelson, whose utterance was aromatic with cough mixture as he replied:

"Assault and battery, your Honor."

"You wish to make a complaint against this man for assault and battery?" said Justice Course to "There are the country of the course to "There are the course to "There are the country of the tice Gorman to Thomas.

"No, Judge," said the cabby softly.

"Tell the clerk to make out a discharge,"

Then the ciera to make out a said the Judge curtly.

Thomas lingered a moment, but was told he could depart. He then went over to the gentleman with the cane and made some in-udible remark.

"All right!" the gentleman replied, and the poor cabman removed his lump from th A few moments later the reporter ap proached the gentleman as he was leaning in an easy pose against the clerk's desk and "Are you the gentleman who had th difficulty with the cabman last night?" After a slight pause to see if he were that gentleman, he answered: "No." The reporter retired somewhat subdued by this noble reticence, Mr. "George Wilson" shortly received his discharge, and met the reporter outside as he was waiting for a downtown car.

"There is nothing in this business except this," he said in a burst of confidence. "I this, "he said in a burst of confidence," I was getting into a car, and the horse was so near me I pushed him back. Then the cabman struck at me with a whip, and I—that is, the gentleman struck him with his cane."

"The gentleman is from the West," he continued in pure Oriental accents, "and he doesn't want his name mentioned, as he is a business man, and it might make talk. That is all there is to it,"

DR. PARKER WILL EXPLAIN.

He Will Tell the Memorial Committee Why He Took Pay for His Eulogy.

The Rev. Dr. Joseph Parker had presur ably recovered this morning from the effects of his long journey, for he dined late and long at the Everett House, but he did not feel well enough to explain matters to re-

His first business was to take steps to harmonize the difficulties which have arisen in connection with the receipts for the Beecher eulogy. He telephoned Deacon S. V. White, saying that he would be glad to see him at the hotel at 11 o'clock.

Deacon White has been quoted as saying that he thought that Dr. Parker would not have the audacity to again set his foot on the platform of Plymouth Church after having turned Mr. Beecher's death into an experimental content of the platform o platform of Plymouth Church after having turned Mr. Beecher's death into an opportunity for making money for himself. Deacon White called at the appointed hour and was admitted to Dr. Parker's room. He would not tell the object of his visit.

A meeting of the Beecher, Memorial Fund Committee will be held this afternoon at Dr. Charles Hall's house, in Montague street, Brooklyn. Dr. Parker will attend and make a personal statement as in his reasons for account of the street o a personal statement as to his reasons for personal statement as to his reasons for ac-epting money for the eulogy. After the neeting Dr. Parker will dine with Mrs.

In the evening he will lecture for the Bryant Literary Union at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association in Brooklyn. Major Pond is authority for the statement that Dr. Parker will fill his engagement to #### preach in Plymouth Church on Sunday. DISBANDED BY THE MASTER-WORKMAN. Newcastle's Assembly on the Verge of Death

from Internal Dissensions ISPECIAL TO THE WORLD, I PITTSBURG, Dec. 1.-The Knights of Labor Assembly, No. 7,817, at Newcastle, a thriving town thirty miles from here, is on the verge of death from internal dissensions and their charter and seal are in custody of the law. It seems that Master-Workman McMahon becam liscourage at the failure of the Knights to keep so many were in arrears that he concluded to de-band the assembly, a power he claims under the condition of the order, and accordingly he west to the halt, took possession of the charter and wrote a note saying he thereby disbanded the as-sembly by virtue of his authority as Master-Work-

Fire in a Shoe Store.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Dec. 1.—The large thoe store of J. C. Chamberlain, at 17 Peace street, w.s destroyed by fire and its contents sireet, W.s destroyed by fire and its contents ruined by water at 5 o'clock this moraing. The fire started ten teet from the heater beneath the floor of the stort. It was doubtless of incendiary origin. The building is owned by Ignatz Frankenstein, of W sterly, R. I., and is damaged to the extent of $2,000, which is fully covered by $11,000 of insurance of the book, lives at 1825 Columba avenue, Philadelphia. The stock was insured for $7,000.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
PITTSBURG, Dec. 1.—The Fint-Glass Manufacurers have finished their work and adopted a scale which, they say, equalizes wages. It is scale which, they say, equalizes wages. It is ready for submission to the men with the notifica-tion that if a staccepted by Jan. 2, the factories would be closed. A prominent manufacturer was seen after the adjoarmen' and said the conclu-sions reached were tre most important in the his-tory of the trade. The empoyees refuse to give details, but intimate that they have taken a firm stand.

Glass Men Fix a Scale for Employees.

Oil Producers in Secret Session. ISPECIAL TO THE WORLD.1

Pittsaura, Dec. 1.-Prominent oil producers are holding a secret meeting here to-day, among waom are a number of Standard Oh officials, diswhom are a number of Standard On Omeials, dis-cussing the shut-down movement. The shut-down has been in effect a month and the production i rigery limited, but as prices have not advanced producers are worse off man before and great dis-content prevails. S verainment want to break their agreement, but the outcome cannot be predicted. The Standard wants the shut-down continued. Reading Men Will Not Handle Scab Coal.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—The employees of the Reading Railroad Company refuse to handle coal mined by scabs, and twenty-five cars shipped here are side-tracked just outside the city. The rail# are side-tracked just outside the city. The rail-road company fear a general strike in case they discharge their employees for refusing to handle the coal. Drover Joslyn, of Buffale, Dead.

FITCHBURG, Mass., Dec. 1.—George Joslyn, of East Buff-lo, N. Y., drover, injured in Fitchburg Railroad accident at East Fitchburg Wednesday, died this morning.

MR. CORNELL WOOLLEY TO WED MISS CORNELIA B. FARWELL.

Eight Bridesmalds to be Present at the Marriage of Mr. Brown and Miss Renwick-Mr. Ellot Gregory to Give a Reception in His Studio This Afternoon-Other Society Events of Interest.

URING the day there will be two weddings and a number of re-ceptions. Mr. Cornell Woolley and Miss Cor. nelia H. Farwell. daughter of the late Wm. D. Farwell, will be married this evening at 8 o'clock at the Madison Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, at Sixtieth street. The Rev.

with train, and square corsage, all fully trimmed with pearls and point lace. The tulle veil will be fastened with diamond pins. These and other diamonds worn were the gifts of the bride's mother and the groom. The bouquet will be of bride roses and white hyacinths. Mr. Park Mason Woolley, a cousin, will be the best man and Messrs. Thomas C. Oakley, Willet D. Morgan, Newton E. Stout, Joseph E. Coffin, George B. Hodgman and Douglas Farwell Hotchkiss the ushers. Miss Nettie Stevens, of Winona, Minn., will be the maid of honor. Miss Julia Woolley and Miss Bessie Yelland, of Brooklyn, will be the bridesmaids. The maid of honor and bridesmaids each will wear liamond pins, the gi't of the groom. The oride presented the ushers with link sleeve buttons. Her present to the groom was a set of pearl studs. After the ceremony a recep-tion will be given at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. D. Farwell, 9 East Seventyninth street. Among the guests expected are the following-named persons:

the following-named persons:

Mr. and Mrs. John Lowery, Mr. and Mrs. George
W. Woolley, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hodgman,
Mr. and Mrs. Clinton F. Fisk, Mr. James H.
Woods, Mr. and Mrs. M. Woolley, Mr. and Mrs.
A. L. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Woolley, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Oakley, Jr., Commodore William H. Shock, Miss Lanning, Dr. and Mrs. D. N.
Woolley, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bates, Dr. and Mrs.
C. P. Masden, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woolley, Mr.
and Mrs. Chadles H. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Coe, Mr. Marshail Woolley, the Misses Ayers, Mr. and Mrs. B. Colgate and Mr. Howell Woolley.

The marriage of Mr. Rowell Moolley The marriage of Mr. Brown and Miss Lillie

Renwick will take place to day at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Edward A. Hurry, 30 West Seventeenth street. There will be eight bridesmaids, the Misses Brown, sisters of the groom, and the Misses Hurry, consins of the bride; Miss Annie Terega and Miss May Ogden. of the bride; Miss Annie Terega and Miss May Ogden.

Mr. Ellot Gregory will give a reception at his studio in the Alpine, 55 West Thirty-third street, this afternoon from 3 until 7 o'clock. Mrs. Baldwin, an aunt of Mr. Gregory's, will receive for him. She will wear a gray satin gown embroidered with silver. Among other expected greets are the following named per expected greets are the following named per expected guests are the following named per-

Soins:

Mrs. William Astor, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bryce, Mr. and Mrs. James Burden, Mr. and Mrs. Townsend Burden, Mr. Henry Irving, Miss Elien Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Barbey, the Misses Barbey, Gen. and Mrs. Barbey, the Solitanes Brown Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Bronson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Cutting, Brockholst Cuttiny, Mr. and Mrs. Cryder, Mr. and Mrs.
Chauncey M. Depew, Mr. and Mrs. Field, the Misses Furniss, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Fritsch, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goelet, Mr. and Mrs. Gurnee, the Misses Gurnee, Mrs. Griswold Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Morris K. Jesup, Mr. Woodbury Kane, Mr. and Mrs. Marguand, Mrs. Burke Roche, Mr. and Mrs. Marguand, Mrs. Burke Roche, Mr. and Mrs. Tailor, Miss Tailor and Mr. George Work.

Mrs. N. P. Rogers, of 6 West Twenty-second

Mrs. N. P. Rogers, of 6 West Twenty-second street, will give a reception this afternoon to introduce Miss Rogers. A small dance will The Thursday Evening Club will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. Henry Hoyt, 8 West Tenth street.

Mrs. Henry Allen, of 11 East Forty-third

Mrs. Henry Allen, of 11 East Forty-third street, will give a reception this afternoon. Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, of 72 East Thirty-fourth street, will give a reception this after-noon, for which 500 cards have been sant. A good opportunity to purchase useful and pretty articles for Christmas gifts will be af-forded by the parlor sale at the home of the Rev. S. Gregory Lines, 47 East Eighty-third street this afternoon and exemine The sale street, this afternoon and evening. The sale will be in aid of the building fund of the Church of the Redeemer. Miss.C. H. Pacc, who has been the guest of Mrs. E. A. Smith, of 226 Madison avenue, has returned to her ho me in Richmond V companied by the Misses Elsie and Irene Smith, who are to be her guests for a fort-

California has sent east seven solid train-loads of raisins, each train composed of twenty cars, thus far this season. It is a singular fact that the recent cold snap in seorgia froze up the Ice factory at Griffin and deprived the town of ice.

WORLDLINGS.

night.

A man in Paineville, Ore., bit off an adversary's nose in a quarrel and the local paper says that he was fined $250 and placed under bonds to keep the piece. Congressman Scott, of Pennsylvania, is worth anywhere from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 He began life as a clerk on a canal boat at the age of twenty. A negro at Lincolnton, Ga., quarrelled with his wife and she put him out of doors. After vainly endeavoring to get in he set the house on fire and brought her to terms by smoking her out.

A ferocious panther rushed through the streets of Montgomery, Pa., pursued by a pack of dogs, the other day. A score of men turned out with guns to kill the animal, but it escaped into the woods. Whenever Ben Mann of Terrell County, Ga., eturns from a hunting trip he throws a nickel to his favorite pointer and the dog picks it up in als mouth, trots over to the butcher's and buys a piece of meat for himself. Whenever the Fire Department at Brunswick, Ga. , is called out at night Mrs. M. C. Rowe hangs a lantern on the plazza of her house to notify the firemen that there is hot coffee awaiting them there when they have finished their labors.

A Kansas City ocnitat says that nearly twothirds of the spectacles and eyeglasses which near-sighted people pay good prices for are merely bits of common glass treated with a coating of chemicals, which gives them the sprearance of being genu ne peoples. Probably the only survivor of the horses that ook part in the rebellion is old ''Chub," the horse war and still in the possession of Mrs. Galligan at Geneseo, Ill. "Caub" is thirty years old and in dally use as a carriage horse. The largest diamond ever found in the United States was picked up by a laborer employed in grading a street in Manchester, Va. It weighed 20% carats in rough, and 11% carats when cut. It ridden by Col. Galligan, of Illinois, during the pas-ed into the possession of Capt. Samuel Dewey, and John Morrissey once loaned $5,000 on it. A young man in Tallahassee, Fla., who in calling on his sweetheart stayed until past midnight, found the front door of the house fastened when window, and fell into the hands of the town mar-he was ready to go. He made his exit through a shal, who mistook him for a burglar and marched him off to the lock-up.